"Forex traders demand cutting edge tools. Our goal is to stay ahead of the curve with our proprietary trading technology and deliver a competitive advantage to our customers and partners," said Glenn Stevens, CEO, GAIN Capital. "The new FOREXTrader PRO is a robust solution for active traders looking for advanced technical analysis capabilities, sophisticated order management and the ability to customize their trading environment to their specific needs."

FOREXTrader PRO delivers a sleek new user interface designed to improve overall usability and deliver faster trade execution, while enhanced charting tools offer improved decision support. Platform features include:

- Enhanced charting tools with over 70 technical indicators, including Ichimoku, Fibonacci Extensions and Projections, customizable indicators for advanced technical analysis, improved line-based drawing tools, and the ability to view multiple charting windows simultaneously.
- Improved chart-based trading, including streamlined order entry and position management features.
- Upgraded newsfeed from market-leading provider Dow Jones Newswires.
- User-defined order execution based on trading strategy and market conditions. Choose between 'trade at rate' and 'trade at market'.
- Enhanced interface with advanced customization features, detach and docking functions and more. Use predefined layouts, personalize & save custom templates.

FOREXTrader PRO is now available globally. Customers of GAIN Capital's FOREX.com division can upgrade to the new version of the platform by visiting <http://www.forex.com/land-windows.html>. Prospective FOREX.com customers can test drive the new platform by signing up for a free 30-day practice account at http://www.forex.com/forex\_demo\_account.html?source=windows.
