

GAIN Capital Launches New FOREX.com Arabic Service

NEW YORK, LONDON and ABU DHABI, United Arab Emirates, April 21 /PRNewswire/ -- GAIN Capital Holdings, Inc., a global provider of online trading services, today announced that it has launched a new Arabic service under its FOREX.com UK division.

The new service will offer FOREX.com's award-winning trading platform and services to clients across the Middle East region. The FOREX.com offering supports margin-based trading in FX and Contracts for Difference (CFDs), and is regulated by the FSA through FOREX.com UK.

Investors in the region will be able to trade in oil, gold, silver and the world's major currencies including the U.S. Dollar, Euro and British Pound, 24 hours a day, five days a week. FOREX.com also offers access to the firm's unique research resources, including daily market commentary and analysis from a global team of economists and technical analysts.

The retail foreign exchange market is experiencing tremendous growth worldwide. In the Middle East, it is a relatively new phenomenon for retail traders but demand is soaring as the appeal of this market is increasingly recognised. In the first quarter of 2010, trade volumes in currency, gold and crude oil futures grew by over 120% according to recent reports.*

Glenn Stevens, chief executive officer of GAIN Capital commented: "As we continue to expand globally we are delighted to launch our new local offering in the Middle East. The impressive growth of retail currency, gold and oil products in the region in recent years has driven our decision to enhance our offering for Arabic speakers. Traders in the Middle East will now have access to our award-winning trading platform and expert research as well as personal support around the clock."

As part of the service offering, FOREX.com provides a wealth of free educational resources including online guides and courses, and access to dedicated support from forex experts seven days a week. The comprehensive service has the additional benefit of offering clients segregated funds protection offered by an FSA-regulated business.

To support the new service launch, FOREX.com is attending a number of conferences in the region. On 3 and 4 May 2010 it is attending the Jordan Expo, and on 21 and 22 May the team then moves on to the Lebanon Show which is one of the biggest FX trade shows in the region. At both conferences FOREX.com will showcase its new service offering and platform.
