Livewire Mobile to Continue Powering Sprint Music Store

Livewire Mobile's Full-Track Music Service Provides On-the-Go Music Anytime, Anywhere to Sprint Subscribers

LITTLETON, Mass., December 21, 2010 – Livewire Mobile (Pinksheets: LVWR) today announced an extension to its five-year relationship with Sprint to continue operating the Sprint Music Store through the end of 2012.

The two-year contract extension, unless earlier terminated, will allow existing users of Sprint's Music Store to continue purchasing and downloading music from a catalog of nearly four million tracks powered by the Livewire Mobile service. The service is available throughout Sprint's coverage area and supports multiple in-market devices.

"We began working with Sprint five years ago to launch the first over-the-air mobile music download service in the U.S. market, and we value the opportunity to continue our strong partnership together through 2012," said Matthew Stecker, president and CEO, Livewire Mobile. "This milestone underscores the value of our service to Sprint and we look forward to continuing to provide their subscribers the ability to purchase, download and play music from their mobile device - anytime, anywhere."

As part of the extension, we expect that changes in the commercial terms of the Sprint Music Store will result in a reduction in revenues for this service from historical levels beginning January 1, 2011, and a corresponding reduction in cash flows from this service due to the expected reduction in the revenues as well as changes in the timing of payments to be received from Sprint for the service. The Company expects the reduction in revenues to be mitigated by its recent acquisition of FoneStarz Media Group and expected growth in its other products and services.
