

Legrand Names Scott Kleinle Director of Product Management for Nuvo and On-Q Lines

MIDDLETOWN, Pa., April 5, 2016 – Legrand, the global specialist in electrical and digital building infrastructures, announced it has named Scott Kleinle director of product management for its On-Q home automation and infrastructure and Nuvo whole home audio system lines. He is based in the company's office in Middletown, Pa.

In his new position, Scott will be responsible for leading all product strategy and development, forecasting inventory, operations performance (capacity, cost, pricing), long-term planning and budget planning activities to grow top line revenue and operating income for Legrand's Home Systems product offering.

Scott brings more than 16 years of high-level product management experience from several senior leadership roles in related industries. Most recently, he was global product director with TE Connectivity in Philadelphia, where he restructured the company's Data and Devices cable assembly business.

Prior, he was the CMO and VP of engineering and global product management at C&D Technologies in Blue Bell, Pa., where he was instrumental in launching new products, as well as driving positive business culture change and revenue growth.

"Scott is a strategic thinker that I have no doubt that he will be invaluable in advancing the success and effectiveness of two of our major lines, Nuvo and On-Q," said Fritz Werder, GM and Vice President for Nuvo and On-Q product lines. "His impressive track record speaks to his abilities."

Scott earned a bachelor of science in electrical engineering and an MBA from Penn State.
