ZeeVee to Debut AV Over IP and RF Distribution Solutions Plus a Channel Partner Program at InfoComm 2018

LITTLETON, Mass., May 16, 2018 – ZeeVee, Inc. (www.zeevee.com), a leading global maker of pro market AV distribution technology, will unveil several new products and a new channel partner program at InfoComm 2018 in Las Vegas, June 2 – 8 in booth C3980.

Among the new product entries are a four-channel IP encoder, that provides great flexibility for the distribution of multiple AV sources over an IP network, ZeeVee will also unveil a RF and IP-compatible set-top box, which helps bridge the migration from RF distribution to AV over IP by being able to decode both RF and IP content.

ZeeVee, whose products are used widely in business, education, hospitality, retail, broadcast, healthcare, housing and other markets, will also unveil a significantly strengthened channel partner program designed to offer a robust package of benefits.

“Our newest products offer integrators comprehensive solutions for both AV over IP and RF content distribution,” said Bob Michaels, CEO, ZeeVee. “The introduction of our Channel Partner Program represents a new phase in the company’s growth and a major milestone as we complete our first 10 years as a leader in the pro AV space.”

Also being featured at the show is the Zyper4K encoder and decoder, ZeeVee’s third generation SDVoE solution that delivers uncompressed 4k AV with virtually zero latency. One of the first SDVoE solutions on the market, Zyper4k enables any AV source to be delivered to an unlimited number of displays directly over a standard 10Gb Ethernet switch.
